27– Here's the way your folded Caddy should look (both front & back)

28– Here's the way my Caddy looked after stitching the Caddy Back RST to the top edge and pressing it over (WST) .

If you'll notice, my Caddy Back is longer than my Caddy along the bottom double-notched edge and this is by design.

You see the finished length (from top to bottom edge) of the Caddy is really not of big consequence. If you've made yours a little longer than I made mine it really doesn't matter for this design.

Just trim the bottom edge of your Caddy Back so its even with the bottom edge of your Caddy.

Yours and mine will BOTH work even if they're slightly different. :)
